

A QUICK-READ ABOUT YOUR PRIVACY

You can find a full copy of our privacy statement on our website, or by asking a staff member.

We collect Personal Information, which includes details like your name, address, email, phone number, and therapy reports. This information helps us determine your eligibility, provide support, and monitor services. We may acquire this information through interviews, correspondence, phone calls, emails, websites, and sometimes from others. We keep your information safe and only share it in certain situations, like when it's necessary to protect someone's health or with your consent. We take measures to protect your information and dispose of it properly when no longer needed. You have the right to access and update your information, although there may be exceptions.

Just talk to a staff member.
